Free PDF to Powerpoint Converter is a user-friendly and intuitive piece of software aimed to serve the purpose of turning PDF files to PPT format, supporting batch operations, in order to spare you the time it would take to individually process the documents. Basic yet functional user interface After the uneventful installation of the application, you can launch it and start working with it immediately, as its functions are rather self-explanatory. The straightforward appearance makes it easy to handle, even for the less experienced, the main window allowing you to load the files you wish to process. Convert PDFs to PPT in three easy steps In order to obtain your files, you first need to load the source items into the program. This can only be done through the 'Add PDF File' button, one object at a time, as Free PDF to Powerpoint Converter, despite supporting batch operation, does not support adding multiple files simultaneously. After adding your files, you will be able to view a series of details about your PDFs, including the complete path, the number of pages, the size and the destination format and name, as well as the current status ('Imported', 'Queued', 'Converted'), displaying a progress bar in the case of larger files. Free PDF to Powerpoint Converter does not feature a preview function, nor does it offer any parameters to tinker with, so you will need to rely on the default settings. Before clicking on the 'Convert' button, you can choose an output location in the form of any folder on your computer. Each PDF is exported to a single PPT, the comprised pages equaling the number of slides in the presentation. It is a user-friendly and intuitive piece of software that will save you the time you would need to spend manually preparing PPT files out of your PDF documents. System
