Last week, as part of our monthly update, we did a mini review of the apps for iOS 13 and the operating system launched. As per usual, there were hundreds of apps out there that we have to look over and as we come through them, they don't impress us, but we try to list them here for others. Kasper Apps is the home of a number of apps. They are different in nature but they have one thing in common. They are all available in the iOS App Store and they have all been uploaded by a guy known only as Kasper. So far, they have only a few that have been released but they have some good apps, and we would like to know what you think of them so we'll let you know if they are worth a download and how they work. So here we go... 1. ScreenSaver Maker The name really says it all. This app is all about creating custom screen savers for your iPhone and iPad. This is a screen saver app, and as such, it is limited to the device that you are using. You can use your own images, add text and make it look like anything that you like. The app also comes with a number of predefined screen savers. It is free
